GLOBE VAG ESCAPES FROM PHOENIX JAIL

Frank Foley, a chronic offender in the police courts, who spent most of last week in the city jail and in working on the chain gang, was arrested again Friday evening and given fifteen days. Yesterday morning he was put to work sweeping the halls at the city hall, in company with a young vag from Globe. A close watch was not kept on him, and as a consequence, he disappeared. It seems that the Globe man is traveling yet, with the memory of that long sentence hanging over him, but Foley likes the town too well to leave, and his jail breaking escapade led him only as far as a convenient third parlor, where he was arrested later in the day. This morning he was put to work again on the chain gang with a ball and chain to his foot.—Arizona Gazette.

At the Iris.

Last night was change night at the Iris and a real good comedy program was presented. Onslow and O'Brien, two very funny comedians began an engagement and kept the audience in a roar throughout their act. Mr. Onslow is an Irish comedian of the Johnny Ray type, while Mr. O'Brien uses a tramp makeup. They do some clever knockabout comedy and make a hit with their funny songs and dances. Billy Cummings sings a beautiful yodeling song and a soldier song with pictures. Both songs were encored. There are two pictures which please the audience. Taken altogether it is a very entertaining program.

The Globe Mascot comes out again Monday with telegraph on two pages.

INDIAN MISSION IS NOW IN CONSTRUCTION.

"The New Jerusalem" is the name of the Evangelical Lutheran Indian Mission chapel now being built on North Deveraux street, which will be finished in a day or two. Because of the financial stringency only a small part of the necessary funds for its erection could be solicited and soliciting was discontinued for the present. A loan was secured and the chapel is now built with a considerable debt. The chapel will be dedicated next Sunday, by Rev. J. F. G. Harders of Globe, superintendent of the Evangelical Lutheran Indian Mission work in Arizona. He will be assisted by the other three missionaries, Rev. E. Recknagel of Globe, Rev. Carl Guenther of San Carlos, Rev. Otto Schoenberg of Ft. Apache.

When Paul Jones was asked to strike his colors, his reply was: "I haven't commenced fighting yet." When you talk to a genuine article of a Globe man about the financial condition of the only Globe on the globe, he will tell you that "we have got the proper timber all over this portion of the southwest to open mines, build cities, railroads, turnpikes and canals. He will also tell you that the true Anglo-Saxon race don't know what defeat is." There have been depressions over each country since the beginning of time, and as the value of commodities rise and fall, so will depressions come and go, and the man or set of men who could regulate the desires, ambitions and requirements of all the people to exactly suit all the ages of the past or present age. We know that we people in Globe have got the best town, the best people, the best climate and the best mines in the country. "It's up to us to do the balance.
